Dear friends of Motiondial,

I'm Esther, the co-founder and stockholder of Motiondial, which many of you may know. I went off Motiondial by the beginning of 2018, and just came back to build it, which you may not know—but now you know.

The project Motiondial begins with my grandma. She had stroke few years back, and developed a sequela of moving difficulty. The first Motiondial android software was built specifically for elder people with stroke sequelae and who are willing to rehabilitate at home.

The application itself was successful. I brought it home and made my grandma try it. It works well enough, she can grab things more easily after the exercise. I was 20 years old, real young, lack of management skill, lack of protection, lack of everything and made a ton of mistakes.

Now I'm 22, been through 3 enterprises, always a manager. I'm still young, might make more mistakes, but at the same time, I'm confident and willing to bring Motiondial into a helpful enterprise—as it should be, and produce “a better life formula”.

Here below is some information to help you understand what Motiondial is and what it does:

Motiondial is an aim to build a better life formula, that benefits each and every one of us. We are bringing all necessary technologies and means to vulnerable human beings, to help them build a sustainable, high quality life cycle, and interact efficiently with local society.

Everyone could encounter some struggle through their lives, and Motiondial will build different stages to serve them.

First, we start with the elder people and focus on the difficulty they are facing: movement difficulty, lack of receiving information, connect with other lives. We will use all technologies necessary including sensors, image recognition, AI, AR/VR, etc.. We might even build a media structure for social demands, depends on how well users interact with Motiondial and what they are looking for.

Now you might figured, that Motiondial is a giant plan. There are so many things to do, and so many people to help. Motiondial will surely always be facing difficulties, just like I restart it at this epidemic time. But I always have believed, our world would be a better place with even the smallest amount of work.

As the co-founder of Motiondial, I invite you to come in and built Motiondial with me and Jesse together. Let's make good things happen.
